

What the World Needs “NOW”

The world is not bereft of good ideas and intentions. It is bereft of the capacity to Carry them out. What is required is the power of: "COHESIVE COLLECTIVE CONSCIOUSNESS"

The world today is full of people that are labouring under the impression that our present condition represents; "all is for the best in this best of possible worlds". Like the main character "Candide" in Voltaire's book of the same name. ALL these people have developed a false consciousness that is provided by the particular environment, leaders and (controllers) of our "so-called, "Western civilization".

Researching Human consciousness and awareness of the worldwide social condition shows there are only a very few factors that have effectively dulled our human sense of, compassion, empathy and unity.

These values have been replaced with a sense of individuation and differentiation of particular groupings. The main ones are ethnic (nationality), political, theological or corporative and each have their strict rules and regulations; values that are socially fragmenting. These values are transmitted by the few controlling hierarchies, whose positions of power, wealth and wellbeing depend on – us, the various followers in their particular environment - to defend these values to the death if necessary. As we are witnessing in the world today.

What is desperately required NOW are Universal UNIFYING factors. Which are: KNOWLEDGE and UNDERSTANDING the power of the cohesive collective consciousness of the great mass of the worlds population.

We are the victims of the few controlling hierarchies, "Civilisation's Hijackers"

PATH AND LEAVE A TRAIL" -Ralph Waldo Emerson.
